ATLANTA FREIGHT BUREAU SAVES CITY MILLIONS

Work of Organization for 13 Years Reviewed at Annual Banquet

After pointing out that the Atlanta freight bureau has saved this city millions of dollars during its thirteen years of service, W. A. Parker, chairman, and W. A. Wimble, general counsel, urged Atlantaans to attend the bureau's annual dinner Thursday night to consider the bureau in fighting for Atlanta's interests as affected by the recent "long and short haul" laws of the interstate commerce commission, effective April 1, 1915.

The dinner, given at the Piedmont hotel, was attended by 350 members and guests, and was a most successful and enjoyable affair. Joseph Gray, of Atlanta, formerly of Savannah, member of the railroad commission, was the principal speaker. Chairman W. A. Parker read his annual report. W. Wimble, analyzed the economic effects of the interstate commerce commission's order enforcing a strict observance of the "long and short haul" laws, and Governor John H. Slaton and Mayor James O. Woodward also presented talks.

New form of service was given its members by the bureau in 1914, said Chairman Parker in his report, in auditing expenses, bills free of charge, and in filing over claims for free membership. $10,000 expense bills were audited during the year, said Mr. Parker, and $2,369.54 was collected from the members for the membership fee.

COLLECT CLAIMS. Chairman Parker spoke of the Atlanta firm whose duty he received was $200; this firm, he said, received $100 in 1910 in claims collected for the bureau, thus getting all the benefit of the membership. Many other member firms, he said, had the same experience during the year. He urged all members to submit their claims for collection, and said that many just claims, overlooked or left sight of by the firms, would be discovered by the bureau's experts and collected.

Chairman Parker reviewed in his report the work done by the bureau to accomplish the "long and short haul" adjustment in rates to Atlanta. In the beginning of this fight, he said, the railroad commission of Georgia concluded that Atlanta was being most unjustly discriminated against in favor of Birmingham in rates from Ohio river points, and ordered the carriers to remove the discrimination within sixty days or they would appeal to the interstate commerce commission for relief.

On outcome of this, the report stated, resulted in a conference between a committee of five members of the bureau, approved by the board of directors, and the carriers, which resulted in the carriers granting reductions which, on February 1, will have saved Atlanta $100,000 and a half million dollars.

WORK OF BUREAU. Not satisfied with this, however, the report stated, because the rates from Cincinnati to Atlanta were still higher than from Cincinnati to Birmingham, the bureau filed a formal complaint with the interstate commerce commission and, although the final outcome is not yet determined, said the report, the commission ordered in 1914 that the discrimination against Atlanta in favor of Birmingham on Cincinnati rates be discontinued for a period of two years, commencing April 1, 1915.

The report pointed out that the Southern Express company's out into effect February 1, 1914, a reduced schedule of rates which will make an annual saving of $1,000 to Atlanta.

Harry M. Moore, secretary of the bureau for many years, was praised highly by Chairman Parker, who praised the work of Mr. Moore was also given by Mayor Woodward.

Governor Slaton said, among other things, that "the railroad commission was a part of wisdom from a broad, human standpoint to do justice to the people. If this is not done, it will mean in the short while and national ownership of the railways. Good conduct is the highest wisdom."

GLAD TO GET BACK. Commissioner Joseph F. Gray's address met with great applause. He said that not a per cent of Atlanta's business and professional men were born in Atlanta; he said he had recently moved here from Savannah, and, in coming here, came back to the city of his birth.

"I left Atlanta not of my own volition, and am glad to get back," he said.

"Atlanta is a young city, and the great Atlanta spirit may be summed up in the words of Cardinal Richelieu: 'In the bright, light of youth, there is no such word as fail.'"

Mayor Woodward said the general city council could do more to change conditions in Atlanta than any set of men here. And the first thing they should do, he said, is to pass the appropriation of $15,000 for a part of the city.

VAUDEVILLE STARS PROUD THEY ARE NATIVES OF GA.

Little Chat in Club Room Brings Out Secrets of Actors

Charlie Wahoo, the famous Carlsbad athlete who is in business here, met Will Rogers, the Oklahoma cowboy, in the green room at the Forsyth Wednesday evening. The two big fellows talked a letter from one of the big league ball players to meet the cowboy comedian, who is a thirty-six degree baseball fan. The two big fellows talked baseball for awhile, and then Rogers, who is famous, turned up to the fact that he is a Cherokee Indian, and, of course, the two red men again frayed hands.

Rogers told his life history to Wahoo. He recalled how he had left home when a mere boy and come to South America to enter the cattle business. He got so far away from home that he had to stick around three years before he could get money enough to get back to his west, and then he had come in for his share of Indian lands and today has a big acreage in one of the western states.

While the conversation was going on John King, the minstrel star, who had joined the party, confessed to the fact that he was born right here in Georgia. King said in all the years that he had been coming to Atlanta, he had never mentioned the fact until this time. He told that he was born at Roswell, within a short walking distance of the home of Colonel Roosevelt's mother's birthplace, and that the fact was mentioned by one of his relatives. He has relatives here in Atlanta in banking and other business enterprises.

"All right," chirped Clara Rochester, who had paused for a moment in the green room, "I was born, educated and had my stage start in Atlanta, so I guess I win." And with that the two Indians and the Roswell man bowed low as Atlanta's own vaudeville star marched majestically out to her waiting automobile.

PROHIBITION LEADER DECLARES WAR ON ALA. GOVERNOR

Refuses to Submit New State-Wide Bill to Vote of People

(By Associated Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 15.—A. H. Carmichael, speaker of the lower house and recognized prohibition leader, declared war on Governor Henderson, who will be inaugurated Monday and refused to permit the people to vote on the drastic state-wide prohibition bill passed by both houses yesterday, which awaits the signature or veto of the governor. The house had just passed the prohibition bill by a vote of 74 to 27, when Mr. Carmichael, in refusing to submit the measure to the people, said:

"If this bill were submitted to the people the interests would be debauched and corrupt the voters of the state. One thing is more important to the people than the passage of a prohibition bill, and that is the passage of a law changing our present election methods."

In discussing the breach that has been created between the legislature and the incoming governor, Mr. Carmichael declared war on Henderson when he said: "We will punish him for his little indiscretion by showing him just how good an administration we can give to the state."

MINISTERS AND LAYMEN PLEDGE AID TO REVIVAL

More than 100 ministers and laymen, representing nearly every Protestant church in Atlanta, attended a meeting at the Young Men's Christian association Friday at which they mapped out final plans for the big Channing-Alley revival services that will be held here during the four weeks beginning February 14. The evangelistic meetings will be held in a temporary tabernacle that will be built on the site of the old Layden house on Peachtree street, between the governor's mansion and the University club.

Those at the meeting pledged their hearty co-operation and the support of their churches in the plan to make these revival services the greatest in Atlanta's history. It was pointed out by several speakers that this is the best time for an evangelistic rally and that a campaign of this sort is sorely needed in Atlanta, just now.

Restoration of the Democratic Party to Power in State Is Now Complete

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 15.—With the inauguration of Thomas C. Rye, of Paris, as governor, Tennessee today returned to Democratic rule. It was the governor-elect took the oath of office, succeeding Governor Ben W. Hooper, Republican, who has held office since January 25, 1911. With the legislature overwhelmingly Democratic and a Democratic governor, the restoration of the party is complete.

The inauguration ceremony was held in the Ryman auditorium, the oath of office being administered by Chief Justice M. M. Neil. In spite of inclement weather a large crowd witnessed the parade from Mr. Rye's hotel to the auditorium and the exercises there. Governor Hooper was not in attendance. Political leaders from all parts of the state came to Nashville for the event.

Rome Water All Right

ROME, Ga., Jan. 15.—The state board of health has examined a sample of Rome water sent to them for analysis, and declares that the supply is perfect. All mud and foreign substances are removed from the water by filtration, and there are no traces of bacteria.

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arven from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it to the scalp, rubbing it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single bit and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—(Adv.)

Keep Your Lungs Strong

This advice is doubly important with the knowledge that every three minutes some one in the United States succumbs to consumption and many refer to realize they are afflicted until it is too late.

It is after colds or sickness, from overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists that tubercular germs thrive because the resistive powers of the body are weakened. Only with fresh air, sunshine and abundant rich blood can one hope to arrest their progress, and the concentrated fats in Scott's Emulsion furnish fuel for rich blood, and its rare nourishment helps strengthen the lungs while it builds up the forces.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or run-down Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known and is free from alcohol or stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.

POLICEMEN OPEN FIRE ON NEGRO IN HEART OF CITY

OPERA LOVERS SUBSCRIBE TO FUND FOR GUARANTEE

Break Big Windows and Narrowly Miss Hitting Night Watchman

Musical Association Expects to Soon Have Full Amount Taken

Considerable excitement was created along Broad and Alabama streets, in the central portion of the city, shortly after 11 o'clock Thursday night, when a policeman and two street car men chased and fired several pistol shots at a negro who had attacked a street car conductor with an ugly-looking stick.

When a West Fair street and Druid street car crossed Broad and Marietta street Robert Howard, a negro, on the back platform, who appeared to be under the influence of liquor or drugs, drew from his pocket a long stick and lunged at the conductor at Conductor E. C. Hines.

The conductor escaped injury by dodging the wild lunges of the negro. The negro continued his attacks until the conductor began to use his pistol, whereupon the black jumped from the car and ran south along Broad street.

He was pursued by Conductor Hines and the motorman of the car. The negro was shot at by the street car men and the motorman of the car.

At the Grady hospital, where the negro was taken, it was found that he had two slight flesh wounds in the chest. After these were dressed he was carried to police headquarters. He will be tried before Recorder Johnson today afternoon.

Plate glass windows at 1 and 4 North street were shattered by shots fired at the negro and E. F. Dunlop, a night watchman, just missed being hit by one of the bullets.

Jewelry valued by the owners at $2,000 was stolen Thursday afternoon from Mrs. C. A. Braddy and her mother, Mrs. C. F. Bays, 102 East Pine street, while they were visiting at the home of a relative near by.

A well dressed young white man who was seen sitting on the stone wall surrounding the front yard is believed to be the thief. Two little nephews of Mrs. Braddy went to her home about 4:30 o'clock, while she and Mrs. Bays were away, and as they were leaving they saw the young man sitting on the wall.

Returning home late in the afternoon, Mrs. Braddy and Mrs. Bays found the front door locked on the inside and a chain window shade run up when they had drawn down when they left. This aroused their suspicions and they investigated. They found their jewelry box lying empty on the bureau in their room, all its contents gone, including many pieces of fine jewelry set with diamonds and other precious stones.

A full list of the jewelry has been given to the police department and copies of the report will be forwarded to the police of the principal cities throughout the country.

Another hold theft Thursday night was in the home of Howell Gay, well known young Atlanta insurance man, who lives at 91 East Seventh street.

Returning home with Mrs. Gay about 11:30 o'clock, Mrs. Gay found his apartment rummaged from one end to the other, with burnt matches all over the rugs where the burglar had lighted himself from room to room, fearing to turn on the electric lights.

A nickel plated revolver, a gold watch and two gold bracelets were missing, but on the bureau stood Mrs. Gay's jewel box, untouched. The burglar had evidently failed to see it, although it was in plain sight.

Andrews, president of the Past Chancellor association, will introduce Dr. Atwood. A large attendance is expected at the lecture.

EVANS COMMISSIONERS HAVE NO AUTHORITY
The board of county commissioners recently elected by the new county of DeKalb, are commissioners in name only. Failure of the last legislature to incorporate in the act providing for the election of county officials of Evans a clause prescribing and defining the duties of the county commissioners leaves these officers without any functions or duties.

A ruling to this effect has been given by Governor Slaton by Attorney General Price. Due to a similar oversight on the part of the legislature Evans county will be without a representative in the next general assembly.

Dr. McCallie to Lecture
"Races and Quarrels of Georgia" is the subject of an interesting and instructive lecture which Dr. S. W. McCallie, state geologist, will deliver to the Boy Scouts of Atlanta Friday evening at the Westminster Presbyterian church. The lecture will be illustrated and audience will be free to the front and their friends.

Mr. Verffli Gives Recital
A large and appreciative audience listened to William A. C. Zerffli, of the Atlanta Conservatory of Music, in a song recital Thursday evening at Cable hall. Mr. Zerffli gave a most interesting recital of English, German and Italian songs.

NEGRO GETS LIFE TERM FOR MURDERING ORMOND

Trial Jury Returning Verdict of Guilty Recommended Mercy of Court

Ten Ballard, colored, was found guilty of the murder of W. E. Ormond, 52 Cooper street, on November 24, by a jury in the superior court Friday morning. The jury recommended mercy, and Judge Hill sentenced Ballard to life imprisonment.

Ormond, fifty-four years old, a paralytic, was shot and killed Saturday, November 28, near his home on Cooper street, while fighting in defense of his wife and daughter, who had been attacked by a negro highwayman in an attempt to snatch their purses.

The state's contention is that Ballard was the highwayman, and that Ballard fired the bullet that killed Ormond. The case was hard fought before a jury Wednesday. A sealed verdict was returned Wednesday afternoon, which was opened when court reconvened Friday morning.

YOUNG ORATORS WILL DEFEND PROFESSIONS

Varying from their usual debate the young men of Civic Forum of Atlanta have arranged for next Saturday night an unusually interesting program consisting of five speakers who will uphold their five different professions as the ones offering the best opportunities.

The speakers will be as follows: "Engineering," by Clarence Jordan, of Georgia Tech; "The Ministry," by Frank Pim, of Emory university; "The Law," by J. Walter LeCraw, of the Atlanta Law school; "Medicine," by Hal Davidson, of the Atlanta Medical college; "Teaching," by Prof. W. A. Sutton, of the High school.

St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Atlanta Ad Men's club, will deliver an address on "Efficiency." The meeting will be held in the chamber of commerce hall and the public is invited.

Compare the Cost of this Dish to an Expensive Meat Dinner

Here is a fair comparative cost of a meat and a Faust Macaroni dinner for a family of six, showing a clear saving of 85c in favor of macaroni—for 1 meal only:

3 lbs. of sirloin steak at 35c a lb.	$1.05
Bread and butter, say	$.10 .15
One pkg. Faust Macaroni	$.10
One can of tomatoes	$.10
Bread and butter, as above	$.10 .30
	$0.85

Of comparative nutritive values, Dr. Hutchison, the famous dietitian, says that meat contains practically 75% water, macaroni only 10%. In other words, when you pay $1.00 for meat, you pay 75c of that $1.00 for water.

And it's so easy to digest and so easy to prepare Faust Macaroni. Besides serving it as the whole meal, you should serve it often as a side dish.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

If you would give your manners pleasing. Pray never stoop to common teasing.

Billy Mink is a queer little fellow. He is rather haughty and the nature of temper, is Billy Mink. A sudden fright always makes him lose it. It was that way when the school children of the winter with Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Amoruso.

Now of course Billy had no quarrel with Buster Bear. He hadn't even been done it purposely. Then, too, it made him angry to think that he had shown how frightened he had been. He glanced about hastily to see if anybody had been watching. He couldn't see any one, and that made him feel a little better.

He knew that if Sammy Jay or Blacky the Crow had seen him turn that back how frightened he had been. He glanced about hastily to see if anybody had been watching. He couldn't see any one, and that made him feel a little better.

Interesting Weddings

Stockard-Lloyd

The wedding of Miss Louise Robinson Lloyd and Dr. Cecil Stockard was beautifully solemnized Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason Robinson, on Briar Cliff road, Druid Hills.

With roses and lilies lent their beauty and fragrance to the artistic decorations of the home. The walls were outlined with festoons of smilax and palms and ferns were grouped on either side and in the room where punch was served.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Dr. L. C. Tucker, of the First Christian church, the bridal party standing beneath a wedding veil of roses and anemones.

The bride wore a smart suit of gray cloth with a blouse of cloth of silver, and her hat was of silver lace and fur. Miss Louise Robinson, of St. Louis, Mo., the only attendant, was gowned in capy-crooked chiffon with butterfly bow of black lace and carried a bouquet of Lady Hillington roses.

An informal reception was held following the ceremony. The decoration in the dining room continued the wedding color motif of green and white. The artistic centerpiece of the bride's table was a plateau of white roses and first of the silver candlesticks had silver chandeliers lined with green silk. A shower of rose wedding bells hung from the chandelier.

Mrs. Robinson, the bride's mother, wore a handsome gown of black satin, and Mrs. C. C. Stockard, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in black lace over a foundation of black chamois.

Mrs. Albert Barton White, sister of the bridegroom, who came over from Birmingham to attend the wedding, wore a becoming gown of blue and bronze with hat to match.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, Dr. and Mrs. Stockard will be at home to their friends at 115 Hurt street, Inman Park.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulitified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulitified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last every one in the family for months.—(Adv.)

Facts

"Facts" are a store's most helpful tools. Without them we should be of no avail to the public and useless to ourselves.

Imagination plays its fanciful part, but doing is the great thing. Facts—cold, hard facts—create confidence and action, and action is the motive power of purpose and achievement.

When you depart from facts—or twist the meaning of words—suspicion lurks in every utterance, printed or spoken.

There are no shadows of fancy here—no dark spots to be investigated. We deal only with plain, unvarnished facts about goods, prices and service.

Vandy Quintet To Meet A.A.C. Five Tonight

Commodore Line-Up Includes Several Stars at Football and Baseball—Local Team May Not Have Services of Captain Smith—Good Game Expected

Coach Joe Bean's Athletic club basketball team will play tonight at the Vanderbilt quintet in their annual game at the club gymnasium. The game is scheduled for tonight instead of Saturday night because of an engagement between the Commodore and the Birmingham Athletic club in the Alabama city tomorrow night.

The game between these two teams has been an annual event of interest for several years, and tonight's battle should prove no exception. As a general promotion, the Vanderbilt quintet turn out a corking good team and it is estimated that the outfit this season is at least an average one. Little has been learned of their make-up, but from the personnel of the line-up they appear to be pretty well loaded for the local.

Among others are Tom Davis, Annie Sikes, Josh Cody, Reyer, and Bob Turner, who have played in the Vanderbilt line-up. Davidson and Morgan of the baseball team are also in the party, and both are expected to appear in the line-up tonight.

The club team is not in the best of condition for the game. Williamson Smith is still suffering from a sore knee, and may be unable to get into the game. Forbes, who has hurt in the game, with Columbus has about recovered, and will work at his regular station. In case Smith is unable to play, either Jim Harrison or Zeke Martin will likely be used at the forward position.

Following is a probable line-up for VANDY:
Davidson, F. H. Harrison, A. C. F. Sikes, J. E. Forbes, Woodward, C. DuBard, C. Martin, F. E. Cody, J. E. Weaver, J. E.

State League Meets Jan. 20

WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 15.—Georgia State league fans are awaiting with interest the outcome of the meeting of the league directors which will be held here on January 20. This meeting will be held at American hotel, where important developments are expected to result.

Among other things are of consideration in the salary limit. The limit is sure to suffer a cut, and furthermore, it is expected that rigid rules and penalties will be enforced on the clubs who persist in violating it. In case the limit is lowered, it is expected that it will be reduced to $1,000 or possibly as low as $800.

It is also expected that the league will pass a ruling prohibiting the use of more than one player on a club who has been service in a higher class league. The object of this ruling is, of course, to encourage the use of young players, rather than taking older, more experienced ones from higher leagues. These men invariably insist on larger salaries than the youngsters, and cause most of the trouble in the salary limit.

Baseball luminaries Leave Brunswick

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Jan. 15.—After spending Thursday on Jekyll Island, Georgia, the Vanderbilt quintet, including the Vanderbilt quintet, returned to their homes. Stallings returns to his country home near Macon; Cobb, accompanied by two New York sport writers, goes to New York; Whitford, to Durham, N. C., and the others to their respective homes. Just as the train pulled out, it was stated to a newspaper correspondent that he and Stallings had not agreed, and consequently he had not signed a contract. "I may sign before I leave Stallings tonight," he said.

Penn Drops Carlisle

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—Four new games, Pennsylvania State, Pittsburgh, Albright and West Virginia, are on the University of Pennsylvania 1915 football schedule announced yesterday. For the first time in more than twenty years the Carlisle Indians do not appear.

The Midnight Light BY GRANTLAND RICE

SONGS OF SWAT.
"So you would leave this piece of cheese," The Judge said—"but of course you'll tell me, ladies on what grounds you ask for a divorce?" She came back at that pite-faced Judge with half a sneer and hissed—"First—'income-tax-ability' And then she added this—"

CHORUS.
"When I first met this Marble Dome—when he first came to court—He promised he would sacrifice and give me good support—He swore that he would bat around .300 in the fight—But all this boob can bat around, yer Honor, is all night."

The Judge glared at the trembling wretch with anger, plus fatigue;
"So you're the Honorable Baker Of the good old Midnight League? This dame not only wins her plea, But she's the practice spreader, I sentence you three seasons to The Kansas City Feds."

Bill Donovan has skidded out and gathered in Ray Caldwell and Roger Peckenpaugh for the Yanks. Tip to Cap Huston—why not point him in the general direction of Tip Speaker and Ty Cobb?

In all this future now being stirred up, what has become of Battling George Starnell—the Firebrand of the Feds? Or is George keeping under cover and mining the O. B. trenches?

Some earnest Bystander seems to have evolved the thought that we have given Organized Ball a clean bill of health.

Nothing like it. Many of the complaints issued in the Fed plea to the court are true beyond any doubt. O. B. in spots has been as full of hopes as a fish. If O. B. or the National Commission had hit all spraddled out on a few such people as C. Murphy and had them expurgated there would never have been a Federal League.

Players, undoubtedly, have been underpaid and badly treated in any number of cases. Bad rules have been passed and good rules have been broken. But in spite of this the majority of club owners—such people as Somers, Lannin, Hempstead, Comiskey, Navin, etc., have in the main been fair.

REGARDING ANY JUMPER'S POPULARITY.

They say that he is in for trouble—That fame has given him the toes; But until he poles a double And drives the winning run across.

O. B.'S MISTAKE.

The game's big mistake was in the working arrangement of the National Commission. This Commission, controlling the destinies of 10,000 players and many dozen leagues, should have been composed of five men—the presidents of the two major leagues—two representatives from the Players' fraternity—and a fifth person, to be chosen by the other four. Then any injustice could have been taken to a fairer court. The player is certainly entitled to equal representation upon any commission controlling the game, and he will be a good bit of a jellyfish unless he makes a stand for this right.

THE PLAYER'S PART.

With improvements to be made the player must also furnish his share of the same. What have those defending the player to say in regard to those players who break training, loaf, sulk, jump signed contracts and have out umpires as an alibi for their own mistakes?

The players' cause isn't altogether spotless. He has not, in his entirety, been any tin god. Once in a while the magnate also has his side.

A PRAYER FROM THE LINE.

"(The soldier in the trench doesn't fear death; he courts it as an end to his misery)."—Herbert Corey.

Give us, O God of the night—and the fight—Give us no heaven of heaven to win; Give us no crown, though it be in Thy light; Give us no seat, though it be in Thy throne.

Give us the range of the voicing shell; Give us—beyond the last echo infernal—Give us a grave that is deeper than hell; Give us a sleep that is dreamless, eternal.

THE WOODEN TEMPERAMENT.

Colonel B. L. T. of the more than esteemed "Chicago Tribune," says the wooden temperament is the best temperament for winning golf.

And it is a grave that is deeper than hell, rather, for golf, have the unharassed bosom of a cigar store Indian than the palpitating imagination of a Napoleon or a Caesar.

But at the same time, it isn't so much a matter of muscular control, as suggested, as it is a matter of nerve control. Muscular control easily to many where there is no great stress, but who under stress are unable to keep their heads in the proper griping. Naturally, the more wooden these nerves are the easier it is to hold them in restraint.

Frequently in sport, despite most theories to the contrary, the more brain a man carries to the field the less chance he has to win. For brain alone is at a big disadvantage against instinct, which doesn't have to think and which may require no portion of intelligence.

And a still harder blow at sportive success is the possession of an active imagination.

Probably the two least imaginative people of the decade—who come closer to being kinnmen of the ox—are Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson. And between them they have held the world's heavyweight championship for about sixteen years.

Beyond any doubt the four ruling factors of sportive success are skill, luck, the wooden temperament and instinct. And skill is the result of instinct added to practice.

O. B. Magnates Frame Defense

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Every club owner in the American and National leagues, the presidents of the leagues and many minor league club owners, will file affidavits giving organized baseball's side of the Federal League antitrust suit next week, it was said Thursday. Dan Johnson, August Herrmann and Charles Thomas, president of the Chicago Nationals, already had prepared affidavits, and C. A. Comiskey, of the Chicago Americans, and Robert Hegde, of the St. Louis Americans, gave their testimony yesterday.

The test of the affidavits was not made public, but in a general way they are said to contain statements declaring that baseball under the national agreement is not a trust, and denying the Federal charges.

As might be inferred from the affidavits, Pete was several strokes above bogy in the "think tank" and he could almost have been arrested for blocking traffic, when once he got on bases. But Pete could hit the ball. According to Rogers a large oak tree stood on the outskirts of right field in his home town park. Early one day he slammed a hard drive into that oak, but the ball bounced back and he was out down at third. A month or so later, he wheeled another that looked like a sure home. But this one too he whiffed, and the turn turned out for morning practice, the manager discovered that Pete was already fanned and had all cut the tree down.

"I'm going on here, Pete," he inquired. "What's the idea in cutting down a tree?" "Well, just this," replied Pete. "When I hit a home run I want to find it in the record books next year. I don't want it a chance as long as that bloomin' tree is a stand-in."

According to the sworn statements of players in the Federal league, Rogers Bresnahan and Joe Cantillon, on different occasions have been known to trade ball players for dogs. It is a cliché that the players were concerned about the dogs, but it does not concern whether the canines were let in on the deal in advance or not.

It is reported that the Pittsburgh Peds plan to trade Harry Sawney since he has been charged with the murder of Guess Herry is still lying awake at nights hating himself.

A federal league press agent announced that the league would pay nearly fifty thousand miles last year. But this isn't a circumstance to the trip that Dan Johnson would like to wish on him.

Hardgrove May Join Federals

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 15.—From late developments it appears likely that Harry Hardgrove, who has been pitching the pennant winning Barons of last season, will not be a member of the team next season. The active-pitcher is contemplating a jump to the Federal League. In a letter to a local friend, Hardgrove states that he has had an offer from the Federal and that he is awaiting the arrival of his Birmingham contract before he makes his decision.

Eddie Hanlon Wins

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 15.—Eddie Hanlon, of Atlanta, was the winner of an eight-round match at the Birmingham Athletic club last night over Al Wagnam. Hanlon had the edge in the first four rounds. The fifth and sixth were even, and Wagnam got a shade in the seventh, but Hanlon had won five times before the local club, and has made many friends here.

It is going on here, Pete," he inquired. "What's the idea in cutting down a tree?" "Well, just this," replied Pete. "When I hit a home run I want to find it in the record books next year. I don't want it a chance as long as that bloomin' tree is a stand-in."
